Grace Lutheran Church

Lewisburg, PA

Project Date: 2006- Present

Status: In Progress

The congregation of Grace Lutheran was faced with the hard decision to either renovate their existing facility or leave their life long church and build a new one. After about 8 months of searching, a very generous member of the congregation offered the church a piece of land. We were there each step of the way to evaluate the size of the site, relationship of utilities, potential for future expansion and review of local zoning and planning requirements.

We are currently working with the building committee to evaluate the needs and wishes of the congregation and design a new facility that will be able to grow as the church grows. The initial design will include at least one planned future addition of classrooms and may also include the potential to expand the fellowship hall. At each stage, the budget and proposed construction is reviewed to be able to provide a responsible design solution to the congregation of Grace Lutheran Church
